Birth to 5 is a time of rapid brain growth.

Building little brains is so important because it is a foundation for learning throughout life. We can help with simple actions: our smile, our love, our words. Small actions add up to millions of connections for a child’s brain.

For tips on how to help build little brains, go to www.ctoec.org/child-development